EMBASSY OF THE REPUBLIC OF GHANA

MESSAGE OF CONGRATULATIONS BY GHANA TO THE OACPS

On the auspicious occasion of OACPS Day, which falls on 6th June, 2020, Ghana is proud to associate with the messages of solidarity and congratulations, paying glowing tribute to the great accomplishments of our organisation.

Our diverse and strong seventy-nine (79) membership tri-continental organisation is undoubtedly a unique force for good in the international arena and must continue to remain so even as we collectively scale up our joint actions to protect the current rules-based international order, underpinned by the principles of international cooperation and multilateralism.

Looking back on the last forty-five (45) years of existence and reflecting on the victories accomplished, we certainly must acknowledge that there is still so much more we ought to do in order to spread, equitably, global prosperity for the benefit of all our citizens. Consequently, the chief goals for the future must continue to be sustainable development, inclusive economic growth and transformation, the protection of the environment and biodiversity, good governance and respect for fundamental human rights and securing international peace and security so that we do not leave anyone behind.

Furthermore, we must enhance and strengthen our collaboration with our traditional partners, the European Union (EU) and at the same time foster new partnerships with different actors to enable our organisation to fully take advantage of the current global geo-politics.

Ghana, in the spirit of unity and partnership, is happy to affirm her resolute, unwavering and unalloyed commitment and support to the OACPS as it charts a path into the decades ahead.

Long live the OACPS!
Long live our partners!
Long live Ghana!
