

BIOGRAPHY OF HIS EXCELLENCY MR. MOUSSA S. BATRAKI

His Excellency Mr. Moussa SALEH-BATRAKI is a distinguished Chadian civil servant, renowned for his remarkable career in governance, peace and security, and international development. Born on November 4, 1982, in N'Djamena, he has dedicated his professional career to serving his country and promoting international initiatives for peace and development. Knight of the Central African National Order of Merit in an exceptional capacity and commended by the Republic of Madagascar, Mr. Batraki is married and the father of two children.

PROFESSIONAL CAREER

Mr. Batraki has held various high-ranking positions within the Chadian government, including Minister of Economy, Development Planning, and International Partnerships, as well as Minister of Land Affairs, Housing, and Urban Development. In these roles, he was responsible for managing Chad's economic and land policies, coordinating international partnerships, and mobilizing external resources for national development.

He also served as Technical Advisor to the Presidency of the Republic of Chad, providing strategic support on key issues related to the country's political transition.

INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE

With over twenty years of experience in international institutions, Mr. Batraki has collaborated with the United Nations, the African Union, and several international non-governmental organizations (NGOs). He played a crucial role in the design, implementation, and evaluation of development and peacebuilding programs in Côte d'Ivoire, Somalia, the Democratic Republic of Congo, Madagascar, the Central African Republic, and other parts of Africa.

His expertise in security sector reform (SSR), disarmament, demobilization, and reintegration (DDR), as well as conflict management, has been widely recognized. He has contributed to the development of regional stabilization strategies and the implementation of programs aimed at securing small arms and light weapons.

ACADEMIC BACKGROUND

Mr. Batraki has an outstanding academic background, holding several university degrees. These include an advanced diploma in peace and conflict transformation from the World Peace Academy, a Master's degree in Governance of International Institutions from the Institute of Political Studies in Bordeaux, and a Master's degree in Political Science with a specialization in International Relations from the University of Toulouse.

VISION AND LEADERSHIP

As a leader, Mr. Batraki is committed to promoting good governance, peace, and sustainable development. He remains a key figure in mobilizing external resources and providing institutional support for the Republic of Chad while strengthening international partnerships for national development. With his extensive experience and dedication to excellence, His Excellency Mr. Moussa Batraki is an influential personality in governance and development spheres across Africa and beyond.

KEY DATES

- February 2025: Elected Secretary-General of the OEACP
- July 2022 – January 2024: Minister of Economy, Development Planning, and International Partnerships, Republic of Chad
- February – July 2022: Minister of Land Affairs, Housing, and Urban Development, Republic of Chad
- May 2021 – January 2022: Technical Advisor to the Presidency of the Republic of Chad
- July 2019 – May 2021: Political and Governance Advisor to the African Union Peace and Security Council, United Nations Office to the African Union, Addis Ababa
- March 2018 – July 2019: Governance Portfolio Advisor at the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) in Madagascar
- August 2017 – March 2018: Special Assistant to the Deputy Special Representative of the UN Secretary-General in the Democratic Republic of Congo (MONUSCO)
- January 2016 – June 2017: Senior Rule of Law Expert at the Multinational Joint Task Force against Boko Haram, Chad
- May 2013 – December 2015: Head of the African Union Continental Capacity Building Program, UN-deployed expert, Addis Ababa

